

Seas

Words and Music by Coia

| Key-Cb

Verse 1

As surely as the sun will rise, we know we'll see your freedom,
As surely as this heart it beats, our hope grows strong in you,

And even when these clouds they come, I know the son can see me,
And even in the shadow of my sins, christ is redeemed,

Pre-Chorus

Cause strength knows your name even in the darkest grieving,
And i've been replaced with love that has changed this hurt for healing,

Chorus:

The seas could rage, the ground could fall and crumble,
But still this heart always belongs to you lord,
These nails that pierced, these bones that broke, it's love,
That night forever stole my heart for you lord,

Verse 2 (x2)

You're present in these hurting times when all we know is pain,
And even when it feels that life has all but left us faith,

Instrumental: Cb E G#m E F#

*Bridge: G#m E (*first time through)*

This is love you would set me free, this is love you would die for me
This is love you and this heart can feel it in your freedom (x3)
